TWO BIG CONVENTIONS UNABLE TO AGREE

ROOSEVELT WILL COME IF CONVENTION DESIRES HIM TO ADDRESS IT....BRANDS WILSON'S RULE AS "EVIL SERVICE."

Resolutions Committee By Close Vote Adopts Woman's Suffrage Plank, Overruling Recommendation of the Sub-Committee—Prohibition Plank Excluded.

Hitchcock and Other Hughes Men Endeavor to Suppress Rumor That the Justice Had Sent Word That He Would Not Accept.

Associated Press Dispatch. Chicago, June 8.—Even though Republican and Progressive parties reach a deadlock on a presidential nominee, substantial harmony in platform declarations was assured today.

Leaders of resolutions committees of both parties co-operated to frame documents in a parallel vein on practically all political issues, including Americanism and preparedness.

Walter Brown, of Ohio, was defeated in committee for permanent chairman of the Progressive convention by a vote of 25 to 11. Raymond Robins was chosen over James Johnson by the permanent organization committee as permanent chairman of the Progressive convention.

Associated Press Dispatch. Chicago, June 8.—(Bulletin)—The Republican Committee on Resolutions by a vote of 26 to 21 decided to incorporate in the platform plank endorsing in principle woman suffrage, regardless of the resolution of the issue by the sub-committee.

The Republican Committee on Resolutions also voted against the inclusion of a Prohibition plank in the platform.

Associated Press Dispatch. Coliseum, Chicago, June 8.—When the Republican convention assembled today a rumor, circulated last night, that Justice Hughes has sent to the Hughes campaign managers that he would not accept the Republican nomination unless it came from a united party was refuted.

Frank Hitchcock and other Hughes supporters made an effort to support the rumor and denied it. It seems certain that New York will be the first to place candidates in nomination at the Republican convention.

If New York is recognized there may be conflict as to whether the name of Justice Hughes or that of former Senator Root will be first presented.

The delegation itself will be asked to decide this question.

While there has been little real discussion by Republicans of vice-presidential possibilities, it is recognized that geographical conditions and political expediency will govern the action.

There is considerable talk today indicating that the delegation might be concentrated on either former Vice-President Fairbanks, of Indiana, or former Senator Burton, of Ohio.

DON'T COME IN

By Associated Press Dispatch. Chicago, June 8.—After the hard fight for unity and fusion, when political leaders gathered for the second day's session of the Republican and Progressive National Conventions, it became more and more apparent that there would be two tickets in the field.

Victor Murdock, chairman of the Progressive National Committee, summed up the whole situation when he said:

"Well, we left the door open and the Republicans don't seem to be coming in."

That was the Progressive leader's reply to inquiries as to whether there remained any prospect for harmony and whether there was likely to be appointed today conference committees representing both parties to receive and pass on peace suggestions.

Republican leaders discounted the success of the peace talk, saying that action had been delayed so long that the majority of Republican delegates have decided to proceed without regard for a third party, to nominate Justice Hughes.

The Republican nomination for president will probably be made in the Coliseum tomorrow.

TALKFEST

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Chicago, June 8.—The Republican National Convention recessed at 1:30 o'clock until 4 o'clock today, after listening to addresses by Senator Borah, Uncle Joe Cannon and Chauncey Depew and early reports of the Committee on Resolutions.

Delegates from the Philippines, Hawaii and Porto Rico were seated by a vote of the convention.

"This year we'll have no shibboleths from anybody," said Uncle Joe. "The country is bigger than any man or set of men."

"The nation that declares itself too proud to fight will soon be regarded as too cowardly to live," declared Borah.

TWELVE DEAD "L" TRAINS IN COLLISION

By Associated Press Dispatch.

NEW YORK, JUNE 8.—TWO ELEVATED TRAINS ON THE THIRD AVENUE LINE COLLIDED LATE THIS AFTERNOON.

FIRE HAS BROKEN OUT IN THE WRECKAGE. EARLY REPORTS HAVE IT THAT AT LEAST A DOZEN ARE DEAD AND MORE THAN 40 INJURED.

FIRE APPARATUS WAS CALLED TO THE SCENE AND IS PLAYING STREAMS ON THE FLAMES, WHILE EFFORTS ARE BEING MADE TO SAVE BODIES FROM CREMATION.

PEACE IS FEATURED IN DRAFT

President Wilson Has Practically Completed the Democratic Platform.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 8.—President Wilson today practically had completed a draft of the platform to be submitted to the Democratic National Convention.

The principal plank will consist of a declaration of the Administration's success in guarding the honor and interests of the United States and at the same time keeping the nation at peace.

SUSPENSE OVER FATE OF VAUX

Efforts of the Germans Have Been Concentrated on Fort—French Fear Worst.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

The fate of Fort Vaux, upon which the efforts of the Germans have been centered for three days, remained in suspense today, according to latest reports received by the French War Office. Heavy fighting continued unabated.

Loss of the fort would be regretted by France on account of the moral effect, but military critics assert that its possession would be of little benefit to the enemy. The fort is battered to pieces.

Behind Fort Vaux the enemy is confronted by a strong inner line of defenses.

The Austrians have evacuated Lutsk, one of the Volhynian triangle fortresses, according to information received at the Russian Embassy at Rome.

The Allied air squadron has successfully bombarded the wharfs at Hoboken, near Antwerp, according to dispatches to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

BLOW ON HEAD CAUSES DEATH

Chillicothe, O., June 8.—John Lyons, aged 48, a fisherman, died early this morning from a blow on the head.

Clem Byers, 45, a well-to-do farmer, is held on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death.

It is alleged he struck Lyons with a hoe handle after an altercation over alleged trespass by the fisherman.

Response of T. R. to an Invitation From Jackson, of Maryland, Is One Thousand Words Long and Characteristic.

Hopes the Republicans and Progressives Will Get Together and Nominate a Man Who Will, if Elected, Place the Country Where It Belongs.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 8.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will come to Chicago if "the Republican Convention desires me to address it."

This he announced today in reply to the invitation he received last night from Senator William B. Jackson, of Maryland, asking him to come to Chicago.

The Colonel declared in his answer that he hoped both the Republicans and Progressives would nominate a man who, if elected, would place this nation where it belongs by making it true to itself and therefore true to all mankind.

President Wilson, he said, had "rendered to this people the most evil service that can be rendered to a great democracy."

The response of Roosevelt is one thousand words long and characteristic.

MOOSERS' PLATFORM

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Chicago, June 8.—(Bulletin)—The Progressive Platform is a ringing declaration of Americanism and Preparedness. It was completed this morning and will be presented to the convention Saturday morning.

The Americanism plank is minus reference to hyphenism and declares for upholding rights on land and sea, guarding honor and influence of America and maintaining the integrity of international law.

It declares the supreme court to make peace permanent after the war and America should be prepared. Calls for navy equal to at least second rank in efficiency, a standing army of 250,000 and system of universal military training and citizen soldiership controlled by government. Declares for use of every resource to end Mexican conditions.

Woman suffrage regulations, industrial and just distribution of its return conservation. Re-establishment of the Merchant Marine, National highways development, permanent tariff commission and protective tariff endorsed.

The text opens with: "This is a year of decision for the nation's future. As we now decide we shall go forward in righteousness and power, or backward into degradation and weakness. We deal now with the foundations of national life. We stand or fall as we now prepare to take our part in peace or war. Hence we are subject to these basic duties."

The platform is long and goes into details of each main issue.

BUMPED

Chicago, June 8.—A plank calling for nation-wide compulsory military training was defeated by the Republican Resolutions Committee late this afternoon. The vote was 19 to 23.

MAY ARBITRATE WITH MEXICO

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 8.—Arbitration of differences between the United States and Mexico through an international commission today became a possibility.

Diplomats are much interested in this information that Administration officials are considering seriously proposing such a course to General Carranza.

If they definitely decide to suggest this, it would be sent as the United States' answer to Carranza's last note.

The action would be taken under the treaty of 1848 between the United States and Mexico, by which the presidents of the two nations may appoint an equal number of commissioners to whom could be submitted all questions arising out of the relations between the two countries during the past few years.

HEAR YE!

Chicago, June 8.—William P. Jackson, Republican national committeeman for Maryland, sent a telegram to Theodore Roosevelt urging the colonel to come to Chicago to address the Republican convention and to "make common cause in our deliberations." It was announced here definitely after the Jackson message had been sent to Roosevelt that the colonel would not accept the invitation, but that he would send a reply to it. It is expected that the colonel will take that opportunity to deliver an important message to the Republicans.

HON. H. M. DAUGHERTY

Fayette County Man Whose Candidacy For United States Senator, Is Heartily Endorsed by The Horse Journal.

The Horse Journal of this date published in this city and edited by Mr. Chas. Allen, makes the following pertinent observation regarding the candidacy of Hon. H. M. Daugherty for United States Senator.

A FRIEND OF HORSEMEN.

Fayette county, Ohio, like the Kentucky county of the same name, has come to be known world-wide for many things of which it may well be proud. Each is located in the most fertile part of the state—each is often referred to as being "in the blue grass."

Each has furnished large quantities of agricultural products and live stock of superior quality. Both have been the birthplace of great men—men who have gone out into the world's great workshops and built for themselves pedestals of fame, made history that will last with time and have much to do with the destiny of our future well-being.

Their names, like their vocations, are numerous beyond enumeration and their influence world wide, and it is fitting that we should have in mind those who have found the home ties great enough that they have maintained their home affiliations and recognized the home influence.

One of the many things for which Fayette county, Ohio has been famous in later years is her harness horses, and her people have ever been alive to the protection of the interests that have been so popular. During this time there has been, nation wide, a hostile influence against racing interests which has magnified the ills and minimized the good of racing, until the breeding industry was well nigh paralyzed. But thanks to a few statesmen whose love for horses would not permit them to stand idly by and see destruction unchecked, there is evidence of improvement, so much that it would appear a new and better time is coming.

This condition makes it imperative that the greatest care should be exercised in selecting those to whom is to be entrusted the making of laws that are to encourage and perpetuate this great industry, which is no small factor in the scheme of national preparedness, of which we hear so much.

Following this idea, it is with no small degree of pleasure we have this week presented for the approval of our many readers the gentleman whose picture will be found on our first page. A man whom we know and can recommend as being personally a friend to the horse and horsemanship. He was born, was bred and received his early training here in Fayette county, "in Ohio", and as horsemen would say, "as a colt had class, trained sound, was a futurity winner, has stood the acid test and is racing well in his mature form".

Or, in plain English, as a boy he gave promise of worth, which promise he kept by filling the office of prosecuting attorney well, representing his county in Ohio legislature two terms with honor to himself and his state, then a successful practicing lawyer, only leaving the home field when he felt the necessity of broadening his scope of action. He is now a candidate for United States senator, and we bespeak for him the support of horsemen throughout the state, and we only regret that we cannot say those outside the state as well.

He has always been, and is now, a friend to horses and horsemen, has always been interested in the industry and can be trusted with our interests.

MRS. KATE PROCTOR DIES IN CINCINNATI

Mrs. Kate Proctor, widow of the late Edwin R. Proctor, passed away in the Christ Hospital, Cincinnati, Tuesday at 10:00 o'clock a. m., after a lingering illness of several months' duration.

Mrs. Proctor left this city April 19th for Cincinnati, and entered the Christ Hospital for special treatment. For a couple of weeks thereafter her condition was somewhat improved but she then became weaker and grew worse until death occurred Tuesday.

The deceased was the owner of 36 acres of land one mile north of this city, and so far as known had no close relatives living.

Since the death of her husband six or eight years ago she has lived part of the time on her farm near this city and the remainder of the time resided in Cincinnati.

The remains were cremated at the Cincinnati Crematory, and brief funeral services were held at the Crematory Chapel Thursday morning at two o'clock.

A Great Convention

The second day of the Republican National Convention at Chicago—one of the most remarkable gatherings in the history of the party—closed with very little formation of lines upon which entirely disinterested folks feel justified in basing a conclusion as to who will be the nominee.

As has been the case ever since the advance hosts began to arrive Saturday and Sunday there are plenty willing to be led and plenty of leaders who are willing to be led but they seem unable to agree on just who the leader shall be.

The Progressives are insistent in their objection to every candidate suggested by the old guard and the old guard admittedly controls the republican gathering.

So far as the republicans are concerned there would be little difficulty experienced in making the nomination. There are half a dozen avowed or receptive candidates upon any one of whom the delegates could agree but there seems no one yet suggested upon whom the republicans and progressives are able to unite.

Ohio's avowed candidate, Theodore E. Burton, seems to be hopelessly out of the race since leading progressives said emphatically that they would not accept him as the candidate.

That the convention will not nominate Roosevelt seems generally acknowledged as one of the few certainties.

That the ultra-progressives will not be satisfied with any other nominee is the fear of the men who control the convention.

The chief aim, at least upon the part of the republican leaders and delegates, has been to pacify the progressives. Several conferences have been held but no appreciable progress has been made. The discordant elements are apparently no nearer an agreement than they were at the start.

So far the cause of dissension is clearly one as to the candidate, the question of platform being little discussed.

The surface indications are that the convention would be willing to make concessions as to the candidate.

The Hughes boom seems to have slowed up considerably during the last few days but the Justice seems to be now the strongest candidate. The "favorite sons" candidates have eventually combined against the Hughes movement with the result that its progress has been noticeably impeded.

Not since 1856 when the Republican party held its first convention has it faced a greater task than the one at present confronting the delegates at Chicago.

With Roosevelt declared impossible, will the delegates be able to so conclude their work as to win the progressive support? Can the convention nominate a man acceptable to the ultra-progressives?

If it can and does it will have accomplished a great work.

The Sunnyside Schools

The final report of the Chief Inspector of buildings recommending changes and additions in some of our public school buildings did not come wholly as a surprise to Washington people.

The changes recommended at each one of the buildings, save at the Sunnyside building, are not of very much consequence—those orders can be and will be complied with very speedily and with comparatively little expense and inconvenience.

With regard to the Sunnyside building, however, the order is vital and necessitates radical and long needed changes.

Folks familiar with conditions at the Sunnyside building have long been aware of the necessity for action—affirmative action—and have been urging that the needed improvements be made.

To residents of that populous section of the city and to the parents of pupils who go to school "across the creek" the order did not come unexpectedly. To some of our citizens, however, who have not been in close personal touch with conditions at Sunnyside the lack of facilities, at that place, disclosed in the inspector's reports, may be somewhat of a surprise.

However, all of our people now know the real condition of the Sunnyside school building and there should be, and doubtless will be, that prompt recognition of facts and that decisive action, to provide suitable school facilities over there, which will denote the real feeling of the people.

Sunnyside is our second largest school section and our big school building there should be well up to the high standard.

Every needed improvement should be made—every requirement met promptly and decisively.

The good people of Washington do not desire any of the school properties to fall below the standard and especially not at Sunnyside.

Just what action the authorities will take has not yet been determined upon, but whatever is necessary, in their judgment to be done, they can rest assured of the unanimous support of the people of the city even if conditions demand a new building.

Poetry For Today

THE ICE-CART.

Perched on my city office stool,
I watched with envy while a cool
And lucky carter handled ice—
And I was wandering in a trice,
Far from the gray and grimy heat
Of that intolerable street.
Over sapphire berg and emerald floe
Beneath the still, cold ruby glow
Of everlasting polar night,
Bewildered by the queer half-light,
Until I stumbled, unawares,
Upon a creek where big white bears
Plunged headlong down with flourished heels

And floundered after shining seals
Through shivering seas of blinding blue,
And as I watched them, ere I knew
I'd strip, and I was swimming, too.
Among the seal-pack, young, and hale,
And thrusting on with thrashing tail
With twist and twirl and sudden leap,
Through crackling ice and salty deep—
Diving and doubling with my kind,
Until, at last, we left behind
Those big, white, blundering bulks
of death.

And lay at length, with panting breath,

Upon a far, untraveled floe
Beneath a gentle drift of snow—
Snow drifting gently, fine and white
Out of the endless polar night,
Falling and falling evermore
Upon that far untraveled shore,
Till was buried fathoms deep
Beneath that cold, white drifting sleep—
Sleep drifting deep
Deep drifting sleep * * *

The carter cracked a sudden whip;
I clutched my stool with startled grip,
Awakening to the grimy heat
Of that intolerable street.

Churches In Colonial Days.

The New England churches in colonial days were all unheated. In Miss Earle's book on "Home Life In Colonial Days" we find that few of these places of worship had stoves until the middle of the last century. The chill of the damp places, never heated from autumn to spring and closed and dark throughout the week, was hard for every one to bear. In some of the log built meeting houses fur bags made of wolf skins were nailed to the seats, and in the winter church attendants thrust their feet in them. Dogs, too, were permitted to enter the meeting house and lie on their master's feet. Dog whippers or dog beaters were had to control or expel them when they became unruly or unbearable.

Short tells a peculiar story of a roaming life, which he has at last decided to stop and go home to his mother. About twenty-one years ago Short left his home at Excelsior Springs, Mo., and started out for himself. He went to San Francisco, where he went on the seas as a sailor. He never wrote his mother, but a word to a cousin in Nebraska gave the information that he was a sailor on a certain boat. This boat was reported sunk, and there was no report of Short's name in the list of survivors.

His mother then mourned him for dead until recently a flash came over the wire from the cousin in Nebraska that Short had been found.

HAS ODD CAREER.

Woman at One Time Headed Six Living Generations.

HAD FIVE SONS IN CIVIL WAR.

While She Was Celebrating Her One Hundred and Fourth Birthday It Was Figured Out That Venerable Old Lady of Wisconsin Has 185 Descendants—Is Rugged and Enjoys Life.

Prairie du Chien, Wis.—Grandma Shrake is in her one hundred and fifth year, for she celebrated her one hundred and fourth birthday anniversary recently. She is a most remarkable woman in several respects. With the aid of a cane she is able to get about quite well, and she is always cheerful and happy. Up to a year ago she was able to read the newspapers, but her eyesight has failed fast since that time, and she is now able to recognize people only when they get within a few feet of her. She has a rugged constitution and is able to take care of three square meals a day and enjoy them.

At the birthday anniversary thirty-five of her relatives were present to do honor to the event, an event that is exceedingly rare.

While the circle were enjoying dinner it was figured out that this venerable old lady had 185 descendants living at the present time, as follows: Three sons, of which Sylvester Ault, aged eighty-three, of Oelwein, Ia., was present at the celebration and who declares that he is still a young man; forty-six grandchildren, ninety-two great-grandchildren, forty great-great-grandchildren and four great-great-great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Shrake herself was the mother of ten children, of which the three sons are all that are living of the first generation.

And what a wonderful family record is Grandma Shrake's—the head at one time of six living generations, all female, the only known instance of the kind in the United States. Death has removed only two of the links. The six generations are: Mrs. Lydia Shrake of Wyoming, Mrs. Margaret Elder (deceased), Mrs. Rachel Goff (deceased), Mrs. Mallissa Spaulding of California, Mrs. Cora Guiley of California, baby Agnes Guiley of California. They all used to live at Wyalusing.

Grandma Lydia Thomas Ault-Shrake was born in Connellsburg, Fayette county, Pa., and at the age of four moved with her parents to Coshcocton, O., where at the age of eighteen she married William Ault in May, 1832. To them were born five children—Louisa, Sylvester, Margaret, Elias and William. Two of these sons, Sylvester and William Ault, served in the late civil war, the former in the Fifteenth Wisconsin and the latter in Company A, Thirty-first Wisconsin. In September, 1839, her husband died, and two years later she married Jacob Shrake. In 1844 they moved to Green county, Wis., and in 1850 to Wyalusing, their home ever since. To the last union were born five children—Jacob, of Bayley; Jane, David, Abner and George. Three of these sons served in the civil war, Jacob in Company A, Thirty-first Wisconsin; David in Company H, Wisconsin's Eagle regiment, and Abner in Company C, Forty-eighth Wisconsin. This makes five sons Grandma Shrake sent to the front in the dark days of the war, another remarkable thing to her credit and showing her patriotism. Her second husband, Mr. Shrake, who died in 1861, was also a soldier in the war of 1812.

The first rockers were merely short boards cut straight across the top and rounded on the bottom. Then the top side was shaped, and later the rocker was fashioned much as that of today, except that it extended only four or five inches back of the rear legs. It was not until 1820 or so that the discovery was made that rockers lengthened behind increased the safety and comfort of the chair. During the decade following that astonishing discovery the popularity of the rocking chair spread rapidly.

An English lady visiting the United States a few years ago declared that one of the most curious sights to her upon her landing was the rocking chair, to which at first she feared to intrust herself, but later learned to enjoy most thoroughly.

HOME AFTER 21 YEARS.

Kansas, Long Thought Lost at Sea, Ends His Roaming.

Pratt, Kan.—Charles M. Short, who has been mourned as dead by his mother, Mrs. M. A. Annett of St. Joseph, Mo., has been found in this city and is alive and well.

Short tells a peculiar story of a roaming life, which he has at last decided to stop and go home to his mother. About twenty-one years ago Short left his home at Excelsior Springs, Mo., and started out for himself. He went to San Francisco, where he went on the seas as a sailor. He never wrote his mother, but a word to a cousin in Nebraska gave the information that he was a sailor on a certain boat. This boat was reported sunk, and there was no report of Short's name in the list of survivors.

His mother then mourned him for dead until recently a flash came over the wire from the cousin in Nebraska that Short had been found.

Shortly thereafter police received a message that a man asleep at Packard's dock at the foot of East Twenty-eighth street had fallen into the bay. With long ropes he was rescued by Policeman Hunter. At police headquarters he was found to be Kowaski. He was put in a cell and fell fast asleep.

ROCKING CHAIRS.

At First They Were Crude Affairs, Just Patched Up Armchairs.

"The history of the rocking chair is yet to be written," says Walter A. Dyer in "Early American Craftsmen." "According to some writers, rockers began to appear in this country before 1750, and Windsor rockers soon after the Revolution. Others assert that Windsor rockers were not made until about 1810 and that most of the so-called Windsor rocking chairs are simply old armchairs cut down and fitted with rockers. Certainly none of the early advertisements or inventories included any mention of rocking chairs."

"The first rockers were merely short boards cut straight across the top and rounded on the bottom. Then the top side was shaped, and later the rocker was fashioned much as that of today, except that it extended only four or five inches back of the rear legs. It was not until 1820 or so that the discovery was made that rockers lengthened behind increased the safety and comfort of the chair. No other business of importance was transacted.

SWITCH ENGINE TO BE HERE NEXT MONDAY

Owing to a change in plans the joint-switch engine which is to be placed in this city to handle the switching on the B. & O. and C. H. & D. railroads at this place, will not begin the work until Monday of next week, and from that time onward the engine will be located in this city.

However the delay in the switch engine reaching this city will not interfere with the combination of the two freight offices Saturday of this week, and everything is being shaped to this end at the present time.

The transfer track between the B. & O. and D. T. & I., running across Paint street immediately east of the new Union Station, will not be removed until the switch engine arrives.

ed with obtaining money under false pretense, the case came to an end by the accused being held to the grand jury under $100 bond.

FRANK HICKMAN AGAIN IN TOILS

For the third or fourth time during the past two or three months, Frank Hickman was taken into custody Thursday morning, facing a charge of assault and battery upon Bertha Miller, who recently testified in a bootlegging case in which Hickman was interested.

Mrs. Miller appeared at the Mayor's office and filed an affidavit against Hickman. She carried the mark of a heavy blow upon the side of her face, and stated that Hickman had inflicted the wound with his fist.

Hickman surrendered himself and his bond was fixed at $200. He was placed in jail to await trial, which may be held this evening or Friday.

IMPROVEMENT OF PAINT SLOW WORK

Rain has repeatedly interfered with the improvement work on Paint street, with the result that considerable excavating work remains to be done. This work will require less than one week, however, when work is resumed.

At the present time the steam shovel is located near the intersection of Paint and Hinde streets, and the earth has been removed on the street near the new station, leaving the crossings in a very disagreeable condition.

LICENSE NO. 30 FOR "STUMP" EVERYONE'S DOG

Nearly everybody in Washington knows Stump the little three legged "yellow" dog a familiar figure most anywhere in Washington during the last two years. Stump is friendly with everybody and everybody is his friend.

The little dog is as sharp as a steel trap and is as mischievous and full of life as he can be but he has never shown any ugly traits. Stump supposed to have come here from Jamestown and his good nature and energy in spite of the fact that he has lost one of his hind legs soon made him a host of friends.

Last year the police put up for Stump's license and collar to save him from the dog catcher.

This year Rev. William Boynton Gage and some of the old soldiers formed combination, raised the necessary funds to insure Stump against the visitation of the dog law penalties and paid the license fee. Mayor Oster made out the receipt in the name of Stump, R. S. Sanderson contributed a nice new black leather collar to which has been riveted the license tag No. 30 and Dick Pearce possessed of the aforesaid credentials is on the hunt for Stump, but Stump seems, just at this psychological moment, to be temporarily absent.

Generally speaking, No. 30 is perhaps an all right number but if Stump was a member of The Herald force we would prefer a different number. In newspaperdom "30" means "all in" and we all hope that the popular little canine vagabond will not be "all in" for a long time yet.

In Social Circles

It would be impossible to conceive a more exquisite home wedding than that of Miss Charlotte Dahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Bereman Dahl, and Mr. Willard Spangler Willis, solemnized at the home of the bride at eight o'clock Wednesday night.

It was also a nuptial event of pre-eminent importance and interest socially, owing to the prominence of both families; the lavish decorations and other luxuriant features of the occasion; the perfection of every appointment and the brilliant throng of two hundred guests.

The popularity of both bride and bridegroom had been given pronounced evidence in the many social functions preceding the nuptials.

The bride has had the triple advantage of culture, education and travel as well as the endowment of brilliant social gifts handed down from one generation to another, and it is not strange that the unusual charm of her vivacious personality has compelled admiration in social circles wherever she has been thrown and that she is loved in her home town.

The bridegroom has attained prestige in the outside business world as well as at home, as vice president and successful manager of the J. W. Willis Lumber Co., and is one of the foremost young business men of Washington. A graduate of Denison University he combines with his business qualifications those of the delightful good fellow and counts his personal friends as legion.

The palatial home, unusual in its spaciousness and ideal in arrangement for the ceremony, had been transformed into a veritable floral paradise; the entire effect one of enchanting beauty.

The front entrance had been blocked off and the large vestibule to the wide center hall solidly banked in palms, sentinelled by Bay trees and overhung with southern smilax to form a background for the bridal altar. This arrangement was particularly advantageous in giving guests from every viewpoint opportunity to see the ceremony.

June roses and lilies in all their fragrance, bloomed from baskets and tall vases against masses of southern smilax and trailing asparagus fern which graced living room, hall and drawing room and through the emerald weaves of the decorations there twinkled myriad electric light bulbs. The broad stairway and newel post were wreathed in feathery asparagus and the wide hall formed a lane from the stairs to the altar, in which the skill of the decorators had achieved its greatest triumph. It was built up of palms and ascension lilies beneath a canopy of southern smilax, the white satin prie dieu in the center, and guarding either side were tall white and gold standards filled with ascension lilies and marguerites in the cups, linked with ropes of tulle to shorter standards from which hung in graceful profusion lovely pink and white Canterbury bells.

Surmounting the tall standards waxy tapers burned in beautiful French colonial candlesticks of solid silver, over a hundred years old.

Nearly two hundred guests, representative of the bride's friends in both married and unmarried sets, as well as large family connection, enjoyed the beauty of it all with the exquisite music played throughout the evening by Bonelli's orchestra, of Columbus; the same director having brought his orchestra to play at the wedding of the bride's mother.

Just before the ceremony Mr. Maynard Craig, a cousin of the bride sang in his beautiful tenor, with thrilling sweetness, "A Little World of Love," and "Love's Coronation."

Miss Helen Jones accompanied the singer.

The voice died away as the hour of eight approached and on the stroke the Lohengrin march of the orchestra summoned the bridal party.

The wedding procession formed a rare picture of loveliness and youth. An octette of the bride's cousins and close friends, Mrs. Vernon Welch, Monticello, Iowa; Miss Virginia Campbell; Mrs. C. Graham Beckel, Misses Janet Stutson, Emily Tansey, Prudence Culhan, Ruth Slavens of New York, and Miss Priscilla Wood of Wilmington, in gowns of rainbow hues, who assisted in receiving the guests, and the ushers, Messrs. R. O. Young, C. Graham Beckel and Charles Willis, formed at the sides and the officiating minister, Rev. A. W. West of the First Baptist church, took his place in front of the altar.

The bridegroom and best man, his brother, Mr. Robert Willis of Fairbanks, Alaska, followed the minister.

No bride was ever attended by fairer maids and the loveliness of the four sisters grouped together for the plighting of the troth stirred the guests to warm admiration.

Mrs. Conrad Schweitzer, of Los Angeles, Cal., a charming youthful matron of honor, wore white Pointe Venise lace over net and silver, plaited skirt made hoop effect, with pink rose bud trimming and bodice of satin embroidered in silver.

The youngest sister, Miss Mary, acted as flower girl and might have been a belle of 1880 with her fascinating coiffure of tiny curls and gown of the same period.

Her gown was white net over pink Georgette crepe, with trimmings of white satin bands and garlands of French flowers.

Miss Nina Dahl, bride's maid, wore a lovely gown of pink net over

Georgette crepe, with trimming of pink ostrich feather, latticed satin ribbon and rose buds, made 1860 style and most becoming to her striking brunette type. Both matron and maid carried big bouquets of "My Maryland Roses."

The bride was a vision of girlish loveliness as she descended the stairs on the arm of her father, her gown a superb creation of white tulle, point applique lace and old ivory bridal satin. A Watteau train, three yards long, hung from the shoulders and was edged with plaitings of tulle. The bodice was embroidered in seed pearls and silver.

A long tulle veil bordered with point applique, the old English style covering the face, was fastened to the hair with exquisite bandeau of pearls. Her bouquet was a magnificent shower of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Of impressive simplicity was the double ring ceremony performed by Rev. West and at its close the Mendelssohn march was played while the bride and bridegroom, with bridal party, joined Mr. and Mrs. Dahl for congratulations and the reception.

Mrs. Dahl was looking very handsome and distinguished in an elaborate gown of white satin, entraine, trimmed in silver embroidery, over flesh colored net and exquisite lace diamond ornaments.

Mrs. D. S. Craig, an aunt of the bride, assisted in the hospitalities wearing black net over satin, with bodice of silver and blue.

An unusual feature was the presence of the bride's two grandmothers, Mrs. Ruth Dahl and Mrs. K. C. Maynard, who with the mother of the groom, Mrs. Carrie B. Willis, also received.

The guests were all seated at once for the wedding supper, the younger friends of the bride with the bridal party in the dining room, where the decorations were very elaborate and artistic. The bridal table was adorned with an immense basket of "My Maryland Roses," and cupids and the decorations of the sideboard centered around a magnificent bride's cake, elaborately ornamented and embedded in smilax.

On either side and suspended above the cake were baskets of swansons and fern, linked together by garlands of smilax caught to the handles by big tulle bows.

The bride cut the cake, so large that there was a generous slice for every guest. Amid much merriment

Miss Priscilla Wood found the ring, and other guests the thimble, dime and collar button.

The favors were little bags of pink and blue tulle filled with confetti.

The catering was done under the direction of two of the sous-servants, Stella Larue and Rolley Steptier, who have been in the family a number of years and proved their competency in the faultless menu and its serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis left on the 10:46 train for a short wedding trip and their departure was the signal for a storm of confetti and merry-making. The bride's wonderful bouquet was caught by Miss Ruth Slavens, of New York.

The bride's going away gown was a strictly tailored suit of midnight blue broad cloth, with chic sailor hat of blue and fawn, white fox fur and fawn gloves and shoes.

The good wishes of many friends found expression in a superb display of wedding gifts, comprising a choice array of the beautiful and useful and many striking and unusual offerings.

Noted for the artistic perfection of their work, Mrs. Buck and florist

Jansen surpassed themselves in the wonderful decorating and flowers of the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis will be at home after the middle of June in the Fred Schmid residence, on Ogall street, which they have leased.

Guests from out of town in attendance were Mrs. Conrad Schweitzer of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. W. Westfield and daughter Elizabeth, New Orleans, La.; Mrs. Herbert Maynard, daughter Helen, of Waterloo, Iowa; Mrs. Vernon Welch Wells, of Monticello, Iowa; Mr. Robert Willis, Fairbanks, Alaska; Mr. and Mrs. James Logan, daughter Mary Elizabeth of Waverly; Mrs. A. ## HARMONY PLAN GETS AN AIRING

Chicago, June 8.—Unless present indications are completely upset, Associate Justice Charles E. Hughes will be nominated for president by the Republican convention. Party leaders who are struggling with every detail of the organization and who are slow to make predictions, assert for the first time that Mr. Hughes will be named by the Republican convention. They add that nothing can prevent his selection. Several of them insist he will be nominated by the third ballot and possibly on the second roll-call.

The Progressive convention, on the other hand, intends to go forward with its plan of nominating Colonel Roosevelt, probably by Friday at the latest.

Roosevelt's attitude toward such a nomination or toward Justice Hughes as the Republican nominee is still a matter of doubt. The entire situation, so far as the prospects of the Republican party for victory are concerned, now revolves about Roosevelt. If he accepts the Progressive nomination and refuses to support the Republican nominee, leaders feel that all hope of Republican success against President Wilson will have disappeared.

Important factors in the Republican situation insist, however, that Roosevelt can not obtain the Republican nomination, and this assertion is borne out by the general expression of sentiment that has come from the delegates since they arrived in Chicago.

The situation between the Progressive and Republican camps is getting into such a snarl that Colonel Roosevelt's presence in Chicago may be required if there is to be any likelihood of bringing harmony out of muddle.

Harmony Plan.

A plan was considered today by which a resolution is to be introduced in both the Republican and Progressive conventions calling for the appointment of a conference committee by each gathering to consider a plan for getting together. There is strong likelihood that some such resolution will be introduced, and that it will be a storm center in the Republican convention. If such a resolution comes before the convention and the Progressives still insist on going ahead with their nomination of Roosevelt, the vote on it is likely to furnish an early test as to the colonel's strength in the Republican gathering.

Reports of discord in the Ohio delegation, which threatened to deprive Theodore Burton of the support of the delegation, were denied in a statement by Granville W. Mooney, manager of the Burton campaign.

Assuming that the Hughes movement is still sewed up, Ohio Burton workers continue to circulate among leaders from other states they think will be able to deliver votes. Mr. Mooney, the Burton manager, professed to be satisfied with the prospects. It was said that encouraging reports have been brought into Burton headquarters.

PUT MACHINE IN LOW GEAR

Chicago, June 8.—Efforts that are being made to mend the situation include another attempt to get the Progressives to delay action. George W. Perkins and other Progressive leaders have not yielded entirely to the radicals in the party, but they hold out no hope of blocking the plan of Hiram Johnson of California and his followers to push through the Roosevelt nomination by tomorrow. In fact all plans have been made by the radical Progressives for early action. Bainbridge Colby of New York has been selected to make the nominating speech.

Governor Hiram Johnson of California expressed the sentiment of the radical Progressives when he said: "No man can prevent the Progressive convention from nominating Roosevelt except Roosevelt himself."

HARDING IS CHOSEN CHAIRMAN

Chicago, June 8.—Senator Harding, temporary chairman of the Republican national convention, which reconvened at 11 a. m. today, will preside as permanent chairman of the convention.

The committee on permanent organization reported today that it had voted unanimously to make permanent the temporary organization.

The favorite sons delegations were placed directly before the speakers platform today. They began on the right with Michigan, Missouri, Illinois, Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania and Iowa.

The personnel of the committee on resolutions was reported as follows:

Alabama, S. T. Wright; Arizona, John B. Wright; Arkansas, John I. Worthington; California, J. G. Mott; Colorado, C. W. Waterman; Connecticut, Charles Hopkins Clark; Delaware, Ruby S. Vail; Florida, M. B. MacFarlane; Georgia, B. J. Davis; Idaho, William E. Borah; Illinois, Martin B. Madden; Indiana, Fred A. Sims; Iowa, Howard J. Clark; Kansas, Charles F. Scott; Kentucky, J. M. Robison; Louisiana, S. A. Trufaut; Maine, John A. Peters; Maryland, Thomas M. Bartlett; Massachusetts, Henry Cabot Lodge; Michigan, B. S. Hatchett; Minnesota, George H. Sullivan; Mississippi, L. B. Redmond; Missouri, Berryman Henwood; Montana, J. M. Burlingame; Nebraska, Peter Jansen; Nevada, Samuel Platt; New Hampshire, George H. Moser; New Jersey, Hamilton Kean; New Mexico, A. B. Fall; New York, James W. Wadsworth, Jr.; North Carolina, Marion Butler; North Dakota, J. E. Paulson; Ohio, Paul Howland; Oklahoma, T. B. Ferguson; Oregon, W. H. Brooke; Pennsylvania, George T. Oliver; Rhode Island, H. F. Lippitt; South Carolina, E. F. Cochran; South Dakota, Thomas Sterling; Tennessee, S. B. Anderson; Texas, Eugene Marshall; Utah, George Sutherland; Vermont, Theodore N. Vail; Washington, E. C. Hughes; West Virginia, H. C. Ogden; Wisconsin, E. J. Gross; Wyoming, Dwight E. Hollister.

ENTHUSIASM

Chicago, June 8.—The Progressives shouted "We want Teddy" for an hour and thirty-six minutes. They marched and stamped and sang and danced around the Goddess of Liberty; they romped through every antic known to the old prompt book of convention "demonstrations," and invented several lines for a new one.

Temporary Chairman Raymond Robins of Chicago set off the giant cracker by declaring that Colonel Roosevelt was the "foremost citizen of the world."

There were 3,000 in the auditorium when Robins began his address. He said: "The Progressives stand for Americanism and preparedness. They stand for an Americanism which is not qualified by differences in blood or birth or creed. They stand for preparedness of the body and of the spirit, industrial and social, as well as military, with universal service for the defense of the nation."

"The chief issue today is one of leadership, the supreme need for a man," Robins declared. "This nation needs a leader in this hour whose abstract promises have been tested by concrete performance." Robins made a plea for industrial and social preparedness, saying these factors are equally as important as armament.

Speaking plainly to the Republicans, Robins said that the need and opportunity of the times is such that partisan bitterness and local prejudice should be laid aside. "But we would solemnly warn all those of easy and accommodating political virtue," he continued, "that we will not surrender principle nor make unworthy compromise to gain a meaningless and selfish political victory. The American people are waiting for the leader to be named here in Chicago," Robins concluded.

FRAME WORK OF MORSE PLAN

Chicago, June 8.—The Progressive national convention reconvened in the Auditorium at noon. Committee reports were received.

A tentative draft of the Progressive platform was completed by the resolutions committee. "National preparedness in spirit, arms and industry" is the dominant theme. As to preparedness, the platform declares for a navy second in the world's armadas, a standing army of 250,000 men and "universal opportunity for military training under federal supervision." Social and economic reforms and "social justice" features of the 1912 platform are reaffirmed; "full political suffrage" is endorsed; a permanent expert tariff commission, high protective tariff, regulation of industries, conservation and development of national resources are urged.

The platform declares that the present situation makes an issue of men rather than words and closes with the declaration that the Progressives "will meet any party who sees the nation's needs and puts forward a leader fit to meet it."

Arthur L. Garford will continue another year as Ohio member of the party's national committee. Other selections at the Ohio Progressive caucuses were: Credentials committee, William Y. Cooper of Cincinnati; rules committee, E. E. Erskine, Steubenville; permanent organization committee, H. H. Tinker of Canton.

WILL SEND NOTE TO CARRANZA

Commission to Settle Mexican Problems.

IDEA OF ADMINISTRATION

Would Submit Whole Subject of Relations Between the United States and Mexico to an International Commission, Washington and Mexico City to Appoint an Equal Number of Commissioners.

Washington, June 8.—A proposal to General Carranza that the United States and the Mexican de facto government submit the whole subject of their relations to an international commission is being considered seriously by the administration.

The proposal, if it is made, will serve as a reply to the Mexican note demanding withdrawal of the American troops, and may contemplate adjustment of many unsettled differences that for years have caused accumulating embarrassment in the relations of the two nations. Settlement by a commission is provided for expressly by the treaty of 1848, which provides further that "such a course be proposed by either party, it shall be acceded by the other unless deemed by it altogether incompatible with the nature of the difference or the circumstances of the case."

President Wilson and General Carranza would appoint an equal number of commissioners under the plan.

Just what scope would be given by the commissioners has not been worked out. In view of the fact that the Mexican note demands withdrawal of the troops as evidence of good faith, it is possible that this question would have to be considered, although prior to the meetings of the commission no step toward withdrawal probably would be taken.

Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, called at the state department to seek information as to when a reply might be expected to the Carranza note. It was pointed out to him that Secretary Lansing had been indisposed for several days and as yet had been unable to fully consider the 12,000 word Mexican note in all of its phases. Mr. Arredondo gained the impression, however, that there would be no undue delay. He was given no inkling as to its probable nature, aside from the intimation that the Washington government's friendly attitude toward Mexico had undergone no change because of the unusual character of General Carranza's note.

FRENCH FEAR VAUX IS LOST

(By American Press)

Paris, June 8.—Fort Vaux, on the right bank of the Meuse, which has been the objective of repeated German attacks of intense violence for the past three months, and which has been the center of almost continual fighting for several days, is out of communication with the rest of the French line and the French war office intimates the possibility that it has fallen.

"Splash week" will be observed at New York from July 3 to 10, when school children will be given unusual opportunities to learn to swim with a view to decreasing the number of annual deaths by drowning.

In its communiqué the war office quotes the German official statement to the effect that the fort was taken by the Germans Tuesday evening. In reply the war office says that it was still in the hands of the French Wednesday morning, but that since that time communication has been cut off.

as the result of the violent bombardment.

The capture of nearly 43,000 Austrians since the beginning of the new offensive against the Austro-Hungarian lines on the 250 mile front from the Prrip to the Roumanian frontier is announced by the Russian war office. Vienna officially admits that the Austrians on the Volhynian front were compelled to yield to the superior Russian forces and withdraw their lines into the plain of the fortress of Lukz. This indicates that the Russians have succeeded in driving a wedge into the Austrian line and are now menacing the Volhynian fortress, which fell to the Teutons Aug. 31 of last year.

Forcing Flower Seeds.

It is a help to soak all hard seeds, such as sweet peas, nasturtiums, balsams, moonflower, etc., at least twelve hours and to file especially large seeds, such as canna and moonflower. This is done by rubbing the sharpest end (or any part away from the germs) over a file, just enough to have the white show. Filing must be done before soaking. Sweet peas may be soaked three or four days.

Another way to hurry coarse, slow to germinate seeds is to force between canton flannel. Take double pieces of canton flannel, wet thoroughly, place seeds between them and put in a warm place. Keep cloths moist all the time, and seeds will sprout in from one to three days. Transfer carefully to the ground with the root sprout down.

A quiet wedding took place Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when Miss Sylvia Taylor, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Taylor of the Plymouth pike, was united in marriage to Mr. Hugh Campbell at the M. P. parsonage, Rev. Harper performing the ceremony.

The bride, a talented musician whose charm has won for her unusual popularity, was looking extremely pretty in a smart suit of navy blue taffeta silk with hat and gloves to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left for a short wedding trip. They have the best wishes of a wide circle of friends.

Florence Mable Sparks, the pretty little four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sparks, celebrated her birthday with a beautiful party Thursday afternoon.

The home was darkened and softly illuminated by candles, and a profusion of red roses, peonies, weigelia and fern sent from the Lloyd gardens, were arranged with much taste in decoration.

Twenty-five youngsters had a merry time and made a pretty picture as they flocked around the little dark haired hostess, in an embroidered white dress and wide sash.

The children were served with a delicious summer lunch and were greatly pleased with favors of Denison caps.

The birthday cake with blazing candles was a special delight.

Assisting Mrs. Sparks in caring for the little ones were Mrs. C. E. Lloyd, Misses Sallie Dial and Margaret Christopher.

Imprisonment For Debt.

About the middle of the last century the power of imprisoning a debtor for life was taken from the creditor, and it fills one with amazement to think that a system so ridiculous should have continued as long as it did. The three principal debtors' prisons in England were the King's Bench, the Marshalsea and the Borough Compter. In the year 1759 there were 20,000 prisoners for debts in Great Britain and Ireland. The futility of the system was quite as great as its barbarity. More than half the prisoners in some of the prisons were kept there solely because they could not pay the attorneys' costs. Many prisoners had their wives and children with them. There was no infirmary, no resident surgeon and no bath.—Dundee Advertiser.

ROUTED BY AN ECHO.*Story of the Most Curious Victory Ever Won on British Soil.

Did you ever hear of an army of fierce fighters that fled in terror when it was attacked by the one word, "Hallelujah!" shouted by an army that was not even in sight? The fact that the shouters could not be seen had something to do with the amazing effect of the word. The knowledge and wit of a foreigner, who knew how to utilize a curious fact in nature and a remarkable topographical formation, must be given the final credit for the most interesting victory ever achieved on British soil. It was less than fifty years after the beginning of the conquest of Britain by the Angles, Saxons and Jutes from Germany, when a small band of those who were forming the nucleus of a coming nation was on the point of being attacked by a vast army of ferocious Picts.

There were no better fighters than the Picts, and the native Britons, together with the Saxon invaders, were facing certain extermination. Then one of the foreigners, called Germans by the Britons, told the soldiers that he would give them the victory if they would follow him. He led the way to a hollow place in the hills, on the road the Picts were using in their approach. When the scouts reported that the enemy was coming up the mountain road Germanus and his band shouted "Hallelujah!" three times in quick succession. The hills took up the echo, and the Picts thought they were surrounded by a mighty army. They turned and fled.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Ginger and Pepper.

Ginger was well known in England even before the Norman conquest, being often referred to in the Anglo-Saxon manuscripts of the eleventh century. It was very common in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries, ranking next in value to pepper, which was then the commonest of all spices, costing on an average about 1s. 6d. a pound.—London Mail.

"Did it work?"

"Completely. She fell down the stairs, and now she is engaged to the bright young doctor they called in."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

ROOSEVELT WILL COME IF CONVENTION DESIRES HIM TO ADDRESS IT....BRANDS WILSON'S RULE AS "EVIL SERVICE."

Resolutions Committee By Close Vote Adopts Woman's Suffrage Plank, Overruling Recommendation of the Sub-Committee—Prohibition Plank Excluded.

Hitchcock and Other Hughes Men Endeavor to Suppress Rumor That the Justice Had Sent Word That He Would Not Accept.

Associated Press Dispatch.

Chicago, June 8.—Even though Republican and Progressive parties reach a deadlock on a presidential nominee, substantial harmony in platform declarations was assured today.

Leaders of resolutions committees of both parties co-operated to frame documents in a parallel vein on practically all political issues, including Americanism and preparedness.

Walter Brown, of Ohio, was defeated in committee for permanent chairman of the Progressive convention by a vote of 25 to 11.

Raymond Robins was chosen over Frank Johnson by the permanent organization committee as permanent chairman of the Progressive convention.

Associated Press Dispatch.

Chicago, June 8.—(Bulletin)—The Republican Committee on Resolutions by a vote of 26 to 21 decided to incorporate in the platform plank endorsing in principle woman suffrage, regardless of the resolution of the issue by the sub-committee.

The Republican Committee on Resolutions also voted against the inclusion of a Prohibition plank in the platform.

Associated Press Dispatch.

Coliseum, Chicago, June 8.—When the Republican convention assembled today a rumor, circulated last night, that Justice Hughes has sent word to the Hughes campaign managers that he would not accept the Republican nomination unless it comes from a united party was refuted.

Frank Hitchcock and other Hughes supporters made an effort to support the rumor and denied it.

It seems certain that New York will be the first to place candidates in nomination at the Republican convention.

If New York is recognized there may be conflict as to whether the name of Justice Hughes or that of former Senator Root will be first presented.

The delegation itself will be asked to decide this question.

While there has been little real discussion by Republicans of vice-presidential possibilities, it is recognized that geographical conditions and political expediency will govern the action.

There is considerable talk today indicating that the delegation might be concentrated on either former Vice-President Fairbanks, of Indiana, or former Senator Burton, of Ohio.

DON'T COME IN

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Chicago, June 8.—After the hard fight for unity and fusion, when political leaders gathered for the second day's session of the Republican and Progressive National Conventions, it became more and more apparent that there would be two tickets in the field.

Victor Murdock, chairman of the Progressive National Committee, summed up the whole situation when he said:

"Well, we left the door open and the Republicans don't seem to be coming in."

That was the Progressive leader's reply to inquiries as to whether there remained any prospect for harmony and whether there was likely to be appointed today conference committees representing both parties to receive and pass on peace suggestions.

Republican leaders discounted the success of the peace talk, saying that action had been delayed so long that the majority of Republican delegates have decided to proceed without regard for a third party, to nominate Justice Hughes.

The Republican nomination for president will probably be made in the Coliseum tomorrow.

TALKFEST

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Chicago, June 8.—The Republican National Convention recessed at 1:30 o'clock until 4 o'clock today, after listening to addresses by Senator Borah, Uncle Joe Cannon and Chauncey Depew and early reports of the Committee on Resolutions.

Delegates from the Philippines, Hawaii and Porto Rico were seated by a vote of the convention.

"This year we'll have no shibboleths from anybody," said Uncle Joe. "The country is bigger than any man or set of men."

"The nation that declares itself too proud to fight will soon be regarded as too cowardly to live," declared Borah.

PEACE IS FEATURED IN DRAFT

President Wilson Has Practically Completed the Democratic Platform.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 8.—President Wilson today practically had completed a draft of the platform to be submitted to the Democratic National Convention.

The principal plank will consist of a declaration of the Administration's success in guarding the honor and interests of the United States and at the same time keeping the nation at peace.

SUSPENSE OVER FATE OF VAUX

Efforts of the Germans Have Been Concentrated on Fort—French Fear Worst.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

The fate of Fort Vaux, upon which the efforts of the Germans have been centered for three days, remained in suspense today, according to latest reports received by the French War Office. Heavy fighting continued unabated.

Loss of the fort would be regretted by France on account of the moral effect, but military critics assert that its possession would be of little benefit to the enemy. The fort is battered to pieces.

Behind Fort Vaux the enemy is confronted by a strong inner line of defenses.

The Austrians have evacuated Lutsk, one of the Volhynian triangle fortresses, according to information received at the Russian Embassy at Rome.

The Allied air squadron has successfully bombarded the wharfs at Hoboken, near Antwerp, according to dispatches to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

BLOW ON HEAD CAUSES DEATH

Chillicothe, O., June 8.—John Lyons, aged 48, a fisherman, died early this morning from a blow on the head.

Clem Byers, 45, a well-to-do farmer, is held on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death.

It is alleged he struck Lyons with a hoe handle after an altercation over alleged trespass by the fisherman.

MOOSERS' PLATFORM

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Chicago, June 8.—(Bulletin)—The Progressive Platform is a ringing declaration of Americanism and Preparedness. It was completed this morning and will be presented to the convention Saturday morning.

The Americanism plank is minus reference to hyphenism and declares for upholding rights on land and sea, guarding honor and influence of America and maintaining the integrity of international law.

It declares the supreme court to make peace permanent after the war and America should be prepared.

Calls for navy equal to at least second rank in efficiency, a standing army of 250,000 and system of universal military training and citizen soldiership controlled by government. Declares for use of every resource to end Mexican conditions.

Woman suffrage regulations, industrial and just distribution of its return conservation. Re-establishment of the Merchant Marine, National highways development, permanent tariff commission and protective tariff endorsed.

The text opens with: "This is a year of decision for the nation's future. As we now decide we shall go forward in righteousness and power, or backward into degradation and weakness. We deal now with the foundations of national life.

We stand or fall as we now prepare to take our part in peace or war. Hence we are subject to these basic duties."

The platform is long and goes into details of each main issue.

BUMPED

Chicago, June 8.—A plank calling for nation-wide compulsory military training was defeated by the Republican Resolutions Committee late this afternoon. The vote was 19 to 23.

Response of T. R. to an Invitation From Jackson, of Maryland, Is One Thousand Words Long and Characteristic.

Hopes the Republicans and Progressives Will Get Together and Nominate a Man Who Will, if Elected, Place the Country Where It Belongs.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 8.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will come to Chicago if "the Republican Convention desires me to address it."

This he announced today in reply to the invitation he received last night from Senator William B. Jackson, of Maryland, asking him to come to Chicago.

The Colonel declared in his answer that he hoped both the Republicans and Progressives would nominate a man who, if elected, would place this nation where it belongs by making it true to itself and therefore true to all mankind.

President Wilson, he said, had rendered to this people the most civil service that can be rendered to a great democracy."

The response of Roosevelt is one thousand words long and characteristic.

MAY ARBITRATE WITH MEXICO

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 8.—Arbitration of differences between the United States and Mexico through an international commission today became a possibility.

Diplomats are much interested in this information that Administration officials are considering seriously proposing such a course to General Carranza.

If they definitely decide to suggest this, it would be sent as the United States' answer to Carranza's last note.

The action would be taken under the treaty of 1848 between the United States and Mexico, by which the presidents of the two nations may appoint an equal number of commissioners to whom could be submitted all questions arising out of the relations between the two countries during the past few years.

HEAR YE!

Chicago, June 8.—William P. Jackson, Republican national committeeman for Maryland, sent a telegram to Theodore Roosevelt urging the colonel to come to Chicago to address the Republican convention and to "make common cause in our deliberations." It was announced here definitely after the Jackson message had been sent to Roosevelt that the colonel would not accept the invitation, but that he would send a reply to it. It is expected that the colonel will take that opportunity to deliver an important message to the Republicans.

HON. H. M. DAUGHERTY

Fayette County Man Whose Candidacy For United States Senator, Is Heartily Endorsed by The Horse Journal.

The Horse Journal of this date published in this city and edited by Mr. Chas. Allen, makes the following pertinent observation regarding the candidacy of Hon. H. M. Daugherty for United States Senator.

A FRIEND OF HORSEMEN.

Fayette county, Ohio, like the Kentucky county of the same name, has come to be known world-wide for many things of which it may well be proud. Each is located in the most fertile part of the state—each is often referred to as being "in the blue grass."

Each has furnished large quantities of agricultural products and live stock of superior quality. Both have been the birthplace of great men—men who have gone out into the world's great workshops and built for themselves pedestals of fame, made history that will last with time and have much to do with the destiny of our future well being.

Their names, like their vocations, are numerous beyond enumeration and their influence world wide, and it is fitting that we should have in mind those who have found the home ties great enough that they have maintained their home affiliations and recognized the home influence.

One of the many things for which Fayette county, Ohio has been famous in later years is her harness horses, and her people have ever been alive to the protection of the interests that have been so popular. During this time there has been, nation wide, a hostile influence against racing interests which has magnified theills and minimized the good of racing, until the breeding industry was well nigh paralyzed. But thanks to a few statesmen whose love for horses would not permit them to stand idly by and see destruction unchecked, there is evidence of improvement, so much that it would appear a new and better time is coming.

This condition makes it imperative that the greatest care should be exercised in selecting those to whom is to be entrusted the making of laws that are to encourage and perpetuate this great industry, which is no small factor in the scheme of national preparedness, of which we hear so much.

Following this idea, it is with no small degree of pleasure we have this week presented for the approval of our many readers the gentleman whose picture will be found on our first page. A man whom we know and can recommend as being personally a friend to the horse and horsemanship.

He was born, was bred and received his early training here in Fayette county, "in Ohio", and as horsemens would say, "as a colt had class, trained sound, was a futurity winner, has stood the acid test and is racing well in his mature form".

Or, in plain English, as a boy he gave promise of worth, which promise he kept by filling the office of prosecuting attorney well, representing his county in Ohio legislature two terms with honor to himself and his state, then a successful practicing lawyer, only leaving the home field when he felt the necessity of broadening his scope of action. He is now a candidate for United States senator, and we bespeak for him the support of horsemen throughout the state, and we only regret that we cannot say those outside the state as well.

He has always been, and is now, a friend to horses and horsemen, has always been interested in the industry and can be trusted with our interests.

MRS. KATE PROCTOR DIES IN CINCINNATI

Mrs. Kate Proctor, widow of the late Edwin R. Proctor, passed away in the Christ Hospital, Cincinnati, Tuesday at 10:00 o'clock a. m., after a lingering illness of several months' duration.

Mrs. Proctor left this city April 19th for Cincinnati, and entered the Christ Hospital for special treatment. For a couple of weeks thereafter her condition was somewhat improved but she then became weaker and grew worse until death occurred Tuesday.

The deceased was the owner of 366 acres of land one mile north of this city, and so far as known had no close relatives living.

Since the death of her husband six or eight years ago she has lived part of the time on her farm near this city and the remainder of the time resided in Cincinnati.

The remains were cremated at the Cincinnati Crematory, and brief funeral services were held at the Crematory Chapel Thursday morning at two o'clock.

Great Convention

The second day of the Republican National Convention at Chicago—one of the most remarkable gatherings in the history of the party—closed with very little formation of issues upon which entirely disinterested folks feel justified in basing a conclusion as to who will be the nominee.

As has been the case ever since the advance hosts began to arrive Saturday and Sunday there are plenty willing to be led and plenty of leaders who are willing to be led but they seem unable to agree on just who the leader shall be.

The Progressives are insistent in their objection to every candidate suggested by the old guard and the old guard admittedly controls the republican gathering.

So far as the republicans are concerned there would be little difficulty experienced in making the nomination. There are half a dozen avowed or receptive candidates upon any one of whom the delegates could agree but there seems no one yet suggested upon whom the republicans and progressives are able to unite.

Ohio's avowed candidate, Theodore E. Burton, seems to be hopelessly out of the race since leading progressives said emphatically that they would not accept him as the candidate.

That the convention will not nominate Roosevelt seems generally acknowledged as one of the few certainties.

That the ultra-progressives will not be satisfied with any other nominee is the fear of the men who control the convention.

The chief aim, at least upon the part of the republican leaders and delegates, has been to pacify the progressives. Several conferences have been held but no appreciable progress has been made. The discordant elements are apparently no nearer an agreement than they were at the start.

So far the cause of dissension is clearly one as to the candidate, the question of platform being little discussed.

The surface indications are that the convention would be willing to make concessions as to the candidate.

The Hughes boom seems to have slowed up considerably during the last few days but the Justice seems to be now the strongest candidate. The "favorite sons" candidates have eventually combined against the Hughes movement with the result that its progress has been noticeably impeded.

Not since 1856 when the Republican party held its first convention has it faced a greater task than the one at present confronting the delegates at Chicago.

With Roosevelt declared impossible, will the delegates be able to so conclude their work as to win the progressive support? Can the convention nominate a man acceptable to the ultra-progressives?

If it can and does it will have accomplished a great work.

The Sunnyside Schools

The final report of the Chief Inspector of buildings recommending changes and additions in some of our public school buildings did not come wholly as a surprise to Washington people.

The changes recommended at each one of the buildings, save at the Sunnyside building, are not of very much consequence—those orders can be and will be complied with very speedily and with comparatively little expense and inconvenience.

With regard to the Sunnyside building, however, the order is vital and necessitates radical and long needed changes.

Folks familiar with conditions at the Sunnyside building have long been aware of the necessity for action—affirmative action—and have been urging that the needed improvements be made.

To residents of that populous section of the city and to the parents of pupils who go to school "across the creek" the order did not come unexpectedly. To some of our citizens, however, who have not been in close personal touch with conditions at Sunnyside the lack of facilities, at that place, disclosed in the inspector's reports, may be somewhat of a surprise.

However, all of our people now know the real condition of the Sunnyside school building and there should be, and doubtless will be, that prompt recognition of facts and that decisive action, to provide suitable school facilities over there, which will denote the real feeling of the people.

Sunnyside is our second largest school section and our school building there should be well up to the high standard.

Every needed improvement should be made—every requirement met promptly and decisively.

The good people of Washington do not desire any of the school properties to fall below the standard and especially at Sunnyside.

Just what action the authorities will take has not yet been determined upon, but whatever is necessary, in their judgment to be done, they can rest assured of the unanimous support of the people of the city even if conditions demand a new building.

Poetry For Today

THE ICE-CART.

Perched on my city office stool,
I watched with envy while a cool
And lucky carter handled ice—
And I was wandering in a trice.
Far from the gray and grimy heat
Of that intolerable street,
Over sapphire berg and emerald floe
Beneath the still, cold ruby glow
Of everlasting polar night,
Bewildered by the queer half-light,
Until I stumbled, unawares,
Upon a creek where big white bears
Plunged headlong down with flourished heels
And floundered after shining seals
Through shivering seas of blinding blue,
And as I watched them, ere I knew
I'd strip, and I was swimming, too,
Among the seal-pack, young, and hale,
And thrusting on with thrashing tail
With twist and twirl and sudden leap,
Through crackling ice and salty deep—

Diving and doubling with my kind,
Until, at last, we left behind
Those big, white, blundering bulks
of death,
And lay at length, with panting breath

Upon a far, untraveled floe
Beneath a gentle drift of snow—
Snow drifting gently, fine and white
Out of the endless polar night,
Falling and falling evermore
Upon that far untraveled shore,
Till was buried fathoms deep
Beneath that cold, white drifting sleep—
Sleep drifting deep
Deep drifting sleep * * *

The carter cracked a sudden whip;
I clutched my stool with startled grip,
Awakening to the grimy heat
Of that intolerable street.

Churches In Colonial Days.

The New England churches in colonial days were all unheated. In Miss Earle's book on "Home Life in Colonial Days" we find that few of these places of worship had stoves until the middle of the last century. The chill of the damp places, never heated from autumn to spring and closed and dark throughout the week, was hard for every one to bear. In some of the log built meeting houses fur bags made of wolf skins were nailed to the seats, and in the winter church attendants thrust their feet in them. Dogs, too, were permitted to enter the meeting house and lie on their master's feet. Dog whippers or dog beaters were had to control or expel them when they became unruly or unbearable.

HAS ODD CAREER.

Woman at One Time Headed Six Living Generations.

HAD FIVE SONS IN CIVIL WAR.

While She Was Celebrating Her One Hundred and Fourth Birthday It Was Figured Out That Venerable Old Lady of Wisconsin Has 185 Descendants—Is Rugged and Enjoys Life.

Prairie du Chien, Wis.—Grandma Shrake is in her one hundred and fifth year, for she celebrated her one hundred and fourth birthday anniversary recently. She is a most remarkable woman in several respects. With the aid of a cane she is able to get about quite well, and she is always cheerful and happy. Up to a year ago she was able to read the newspapers, but her eyesight has failed fast since that time, and she is now able to recognize people only when they get within a few feet of her. She has a rugged constitution and is able to take care of three square meals a day and enjoy them.

At the birthday anniversary thirty-five of her relatives were present to do honor to the event, an event that is exceedingly rare.

While the circle were enjoying dinner it was figured out that this venerable old lady had 185 descendants living at the present time, as follows: Three sons, of which Sylvester Ault, aged eighty-three, of Oelwein, Ia., was present at the celebration and who declares that he is still a young man; forty-six grandchildren, ninety-two great-grandchildren, forty great-great-grandchildren and four great-great-great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Shrake herself was the mother of ten children, of which the three sons are all that are living of the first generation.

And what a wonderful family record is Grandma Shrake's—the head at one time of six living generations, all female, the only known instance of the kind in the United States. Death has removed only two of the links. The six generations are: Mrs. Lydia Shrake of Wyoming, Mrs. Margaret Elder (deceased), Mrs. Rachel Goff (deceased), Mrs. Malissa Spaulding of California, Mrs. Cora Gulley of California, baby Agnes Gulley of California. They all used to live at Wyalousing.

Grandma Lydia Thomas Ault Shrake was born in Connellsburg, Fayette county, Pa., and at the age of four moved with her parents to Coshocton, O., where at the age of eighteen she married William Ault in May, 1832. To them were born five children—Louisa, Sylvester, Margaret, Elias and William. Two of these sons, Sylvester and William Ault, served in the late civil war, the former in the Fifteenth Wisconsin and the latter in Company A, Thirtieth Wisconsin. In September, 1839, her husband died, and two years later she married Jacob Shrake. In 1844 they moved to Green county, Wis., and in 1850 to Wyalousing, their home ever since. To the last union were born five children—Jacob, of Bagley; Jane, David, Abner and George. Three of these sons served in the civil war, Jacob in Company A, Thirtieth Wisconsin; David in Company H, Wisconsin's Eagle regiment, and Abner in Company C, Forty-eighth Wisconsin. This makes five sons Grandma Shrake sent to the front in the dark days of the war, another remarkable thing to her credit and showing her patriotism. Her second husband, Mr. Shrake, who died in 1861, was also a soldier in the war of 1812.

HOME AFTER 21 YEARS.

Kansas, Long Thought Lost at Sea, Ends His Roaming.

Pratt, Kan.—Charles M. Short, who has been mourned as dead by his mother, Mrs. M. A. Annett of St. Joseph, Mo., has been found in this city and is alive and well.

Short tells a peculiar story of a roaming life, which he has at last decided to stop and go home to his mother. About twenty-one years ago Short left his home at Excelsior Springs, Mo., and started out for himself. He went to San Francisco, where he went on the seas as a sailor. He never wrote his mother, but a word to a cousin in Nebraska gave the information that he was a sailor on a certain boat. This boat was reported sunk, and there was no report of Short's name in the list of survivors.

His mother then mourned him for dead until recently a flash came over the wire from the cousin in Nebraska that Short had been found.

FALLS ASLEEP ANY PLACE.

Slumbers In Street, on Wharf, Falls In, Saved, Snoozes In Cell.

Bayonne, N. J.—Roman Kowaski, twenty-six, of 145 Prospect Avenue was found asleep recently in the street in front of his home. Passersby, believing him unconscious, had him hurried to Bayonne hospital, where doctors said he was in perfect health. He was taken home by friends.

Shortly thereafter police headquarters received a message that a man asleep at Packard's dock at the foot of East Twenty-eighth street had fallen into the bay. With long ropes he was rescued by Policeman Hunter. At police headquarters he was found to be Kowaski. He was put in a cell and fell fast asleep.

ROCKING CHAIRS.

At First They Were Crude Affairs, Just Patched Up Armchairs.

"The history of the rocking chair is yet to be written," says Walter A. Dyer in "Early American Craftsmen." "According to some writers, rockers began to appear in this country before 1750, and Windsor rockers soon after the Revolution. Others assert that Windsor rockers were not made until about 1810 and that most of the so-called Windsor rocking chairs are simply old armchairs cut down and fitted with rockers. Certainly none of the early advertisements or inventories included any mention of rocking chairs.

The first rockers were merely short boards cut straight across the top and rounded on the bottom. Then the top side was shaped, and later the rocker was fashioned much as that of today, except that it extended only four or five inches back of the rear legs. It was not until 1820 or so that the discovery was made that rockers lengthened behind increased the safety and comfort of the chair. During the decade following that astonishing discovery the popularity of the rocking chair spread rapidly.

An English lady visiting the United States a few years ago declared that one of the most curious sights to her upon her landing was the rocking chair, to which at first she feared to intrust herself, but later learned to enjoy most thoroughly.

Who Is to Blame?

It is a very conservative thing to say that there are four women to every man in the church membership of America. Many people are wont to lay the blame for this upon the churches. Quite a number of folks would like to lay it upon the men. Some fault the women for it. Is it not possible that the responsibility rests upon our social structure? —Bernard L. Bell in Atlantic.

At the noonday session of the Dutch Treat Club, Thursday, the finance committee, Clarence Baer chairman, reported some $750 subscribed for the July 4th celebration and stated that the committee expected to make the amount $1,000 before they finished their work.

Loud applause greeted the announcement, and it was decided to publish a list of the donors, but not the amounts donated.

No other business of importance was transacted.

SWITCH ENGINE TO BE HERE NEXT MONDAY

Owing to a change in plans the joint-switch engine which is to be placed in this city to handle the switching on the B. & O. and C. H. & D. railroads at this place, will not begin the work until Monday of next week, and from that time onward the engine will be located in this city.

However the delay in the switch engine reaching this city will not interfere with the combination of the two freight offices Saturday of this week, and everything is being shaped to this end at the present time.

The transfer track between the B. & O. and D. T. & I., running across Paint street immediately east of the new Union Station, will not be removed until the switch engine arrives.

M'GATH IS HELD TO GRAND JURY

After a heated contest before Mayor Oster, lasting nearly all day Wednesday, Thomas McGath, charged with obtaining money under false pretense, the case came to an end by the accused being held to the grand jury under $100 bond.

The charge against McGath was filed by Henry Suwolsky, and the accused was represented by Attorney Lee Rankin. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney Livingstone of Columbus and Solicitor Pope Gregg. Clashes between the attorneys featured the case, many bitter remarks being exchanged.

FRANK HICKMAN AGAIN IN TOILS

For the third or fourth time during the past two or three months, Frank Hickman was taken into custody Thursday morning, facing a charge of assault and battery upon Bertha Miller, who recently testified in a bootlegging case in which Hickman was interested.

Mrs. Miller appeared at the Mayor's office and filed an affidavit against Hickman. She carried the mark of a heavy blow upon the side of her face, and stated that Hickman had inflicted the wound with his fist.

Hickman surrendered himself and his bond was fixed at $200. He was placed in jail to await trial, which may be held this evening or Friday.

IMPROVEMENT OF PAINT SLOW WORK

Rain has repeatedly interfered with the improvement work on Paint street, with the result that considerable excavating work remains to be done. This work will require less than one week, however, when work is resumed.

At the present time the steam shovel is located near the intersection of Paint and Hinde streets, and the earth has been removed on the street near the new station, leaving the crossings in a very disagreeable condition.

LICENSE NO. 30 FOR "STUMP" EVERYONE'S DOG

Nearly everybody in Washington knows Stump the little three legged "yellow" dog a familiar figure most anywhere in Washington during the last two years. Stump is friendly with everybody and everybody is his friend.

The little dog is as sharp as a steel trap and is as mischievous and full of life as he can be but he has never shown any ugly traits. Stump supposed to have come here from Jamestown and his good nature and energy in spite of the fact that he has lost one of his hind legs soon made him a host of friends.

Last year the police put up for Stump's license and collar to save him from the dog catcher.

This year Rev. William Boynton Gage and some of the old soldiers formed a combination, raised the necessary funds to insure Stump against the visitation of the dog law penalties and paid the license fee. Mayor Oster made out the receipt in the name of Stump, R. S. Sanderson contributed a nice new black leather collar to which has been riveted the license tag No. 30 and Dick Pearce possessed of the aforesaid credentials is on the hunt for Stump, but Stump seems, just at this psychological moment, to be temporarily absent.

Generally speaking, No. 30 is perhaps an all right number but if Stump was a member of The Herald force we would prefer a different number. In newspaperdom "30" means "all in" and we all hope that the popular little canine vagabond will not be "all in" for a long time yet.

Hickman surrendered himself and his bond was fixed at $200. He was placed in jail to await trial, which may be held this evening or Friday.

DOLLAR EXPERIENCE MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT

There will be a dollar experience meeting at the McNair Memorial church, Friday evening. A short program will be rendered.

5 cents admission.

IS BOUND OVER

On a charge filed by Myrtle Johns, Chas. Easton was held to the grand jury after a hearing in Justice Craig's court Thursday morning.

Bond in the sum of $300 was required. The plaintiff was represented by J. T. Oatmeal and the defendant by F. A. Chaffin.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

In Social Circles

It would be impossible to conceive a more exquisite home wedding than that of Miss Charlotte Dahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Bereman Dahl, and Mr. Willard Spangler Willis, solemnized at the home of the bride at eight o'clock Wednesday night.

It was also a nuptial event of pre-eminent importance and interest socially, owing to the prominence of both families; the lavish decorations and other luxuriant features of the occasion; the perfection of every appointment and the brilliant throng of two hundred guests.

The popularity of both bride and bridegroom had been given pronounced evidence in the many social functions preceding the nuptials.

The bride has had the triple advantage of culture, education and travel as well as the endowment of brilliant social gifts handed down from one generation to another, and it is not strange that the unusual charm of her vivacious personality has compelled admiration in social circles wherever she has been thrown and that she is loved in her home town.

The bridegroom has attained prestige in the outside business world as well as at home, as vice president and successful manager of the J. W. Willis Lumber Co., and is one of the foremost young business men of Washington. A graduate of Denison University he combines with his business qualifications those of the delightful good fellow and counts his personal friends as legion.

The palatial home, unusual in its spaciousness and ideal in arrangement for the ceremony, had been transformed into a veritable floral paradise; the entire effect one of enchanting beauty.

The front entrance had been blocked off and the large vestibule to the wide center hall solidly banked in palms, sentinelled by Bay trees and overhanging with southern smilax to form a background for the bridal altar. This arrangement was particularly advantageous in giving guests from every viewpoint opportunity to see the ceremony.

Jane roses and lilies in all their fragrance, bloomed from baskets and tall vases against masses of southern smilax and trailing asparagus fern which graced living room, hall and drawing room and through the emerald weaves of the decorations there twinkled myriad electric light bulbs. The broad stairway and newel post were wreathed in feathery asparagus and the wide hall formed a lane from the stairs to the altar, in which the skill of the decorators had achieved its greatest triumph. It was built up of palms and ascension lilies beneath a canopy of southern smilax, the white satin prie dieu in the center, and guarding either side were tall white and gold standards filled with ascension lilies and marguerites in the cups, linked with ropes of tulle to shorter standards from which hung in graceful profusion lovely pink and white Canterbury bells.

Surmounting the tall standards waxy tapers burned in beautiful French colonial candlesticks of solid silver, over a hundred years old.

Nearly two hundred guests, representative of the bride's friends in both married and unmarried sets, as well as large family connection, enjoyed the beauty of it all with the exquisite music played throughout the evening by Bonelli's orchestra, of Columbus; the same director having brought his orchestra to play at the wedding of the bride's mother.

Just before the ceremony Mr. Maynard Craig, a cousin of the bride sang in his beautiful tenor, with thrilling sweetness, "A Little World of Love," and "Love's Coronation."

Miss Helen Jones accompanied the singer.

The voice died away as the hour of eight approached and on the stroke of the Lohengrin march of the orchestra summoned the bridal party.

The wedding procession formed a rare picture of loveliness and youth. An octette of the bride's cousins and close friends, Mrs. Vernon Welch, Monticello, Iowa; Miss Virginia Campbell; Mrs. C. Graham Beckel, Misses Janet Stutson, Emily Tansey, Prudence Culhan, Ruth Slavens of New York, and Miss Priscilla Wood of Wilmington, in gowns of rainbow hues, who assisted in receiving the guests, and the ushers, Messrs. R. O. Young, C. Graham Beckel and Charles Willis, formed at the sides and the officiating minister, Rev. A. W. West of the First Baptist church, took his place in front of the altar.

The bridegroom and best man, his brother, Mr. Robert Willis of Fairbanks, Alaska, followed the minister.

No bride was ever attended by fairer maids and the loveliness of the four sisters grouped together for the plighting of the troth stirred the guests to warm admiration.

Mrs. Conrad Schweitzer, of Los Angeles, Cal., a charmingly youthful matron of honor, wore white Pointe Venise lace over net and silver, plaited skirt made hoop effect, with pink rose bud trimming and bodice of satin embroidered in silver.

The youngest sister, Miss Mary, acted as flower girl and might have been a belle of 1880 with her fascinating coiffure of tiny curls and gown of the same period. Her gown was white net over pink Georgette crepe, with trimmings of white satin bands and garlands of French flowers.

Miss Nina Dahl, bride's maid, wore a lovely gown of pink net over

Georgette crepe, with trimming of pink ostrich feather, latticed satin ribbon and rose buds, made, 1860 style and most becoming to her striking blonde type. Both matron and maid carried big bouquets of "My Maryland Roses."

The bride was a vision of girlish loveliness as she descended the stairs on the arm of her father, her gown a superb creation of white tulle, point applique lace and old ivory bridal satin. A Watteau train, three yards long, hung from the shoulders and was edged with plaitings of tulle. The bodice was embroidered in seed pearls and silver.

A long tulle veil bordered with point applique, the old English style covering the face, was fastened to the hair with exquisite bandeau of pearls. Her bouquet was a magnificent shower of bride's roses and Hilles of the valley.

Of impressive simplicity was the double ring ceremony performed by Rev. West and at its close the Mendelssohn march was played while the bride and bridegroom, with bridal party, joined Mr. and Mrs. Dahl for congratulations and the reception.

Mrs. Dahl was looking very handsome and distinguished in an elaborate gown of white satin, entraine, trimmed in silver embroidery, over flesh colored net and exquisite lace diamond ornaments.

Mrs. D. S. Craig, an aunt of the bride, assisted in the hospitalities wearing black net over satin, with bodice of silver and blue.

An unusual feature was the presence of the bride's two grandmothers, Mrs. Ruth Dahl and Mrs. K. C. Maynard, who with the mother of the groom, Mrs. Carrie B. Willis, also received.

The guests were all seated at once for the wedding supper, the younger friends of the bride with the bridal party in the dining room, where the decorations were very elaborate and artistic. The bridal table was adorned with an immense basket of "My Maryland Roses," and cupids and the decorations of the sideboard centered around a magnificent bride's cake, elaborately ornamented and embedded in smilax.

On either side and suspended above the cake were baskets of swansonia and fern, linked together by garlands of smilax caught to the handles by big tulle bows.

The bride cut the cake, so large that there was a generous slice for every guest. Amid much merriment

Miss Priscilla Wood found the ring, and other guests the thimble, dime and collar button.

The favors were little bags of pink and blue tulle filled with confetti.

The catering was done under the direction of two of the house servants, Stella Larue and Rosalie Stepper, who have been in the family a number of years and proved their competency in the faultless menu and its serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis left on the 10:46 train for a short wedding trip and their departure was the signal for a storm of confetti and merry-making. The bride's wonderful bouquet was caught by Miss Ruth Slavens, of New York.

The bride's going away gown was a strictly tailored suit of midnight blue broad cloth, with chic sailor hat of blue and fawn, white fox furs and fawn gloves and shoes.

The good wishes of many friends found expression in a superb display of wedding gifts, comprising a choice array of the beautiful and useful and many striking and unusual offerings.

Noted for the artistic perfection of their work, Mrs. Buck and florist

Jansen surpassed themselves in the wonderful decorating and flowers of the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis will be at home after the middle of June in the Fred Schmid residence, on Ogall street, which they have leased.

Guests from out of town in attendance were Mrs. Conrad Schweitzer of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. W. Westerfield and daughter Elizabeth, New Orleans, La.; Mrs. Herbert Maynard, daughter Helen, of Waterloo, Iowa; Mrs. Vernon Welch Wells, of Monticello, Iowa; Mr. Robert Willis, Fairbanks, Alaska; Mr. and Mrs. James Logan, daughter Mary Elizabeth of Waverly; Mrs. A. ## HARMONY PLAN GETS AN AIRING

Chicago, June 8.—Unless present indications are completely upset, Associate Justice Charles E. Hughes will be nominated for president by the Republican convention. Party leaders who are struggling with every detail of the organization and who are slow to make predictions, assert for the first time that Mr. Hughes will be named by the Republican convention. They add that nothing can prevent his selection. Several of them insist he will be nominated by the third ballot and possibly on the second roll call.

The Progressive convention, on the other hand, intends to go forward with its plan of nominating Colonel Roosevelt, probably by Friday at the latest.

Roosevelt's attitude toward such a nomination or toward Justice Hughes as the Republican nominee is still a matter of doubt. The entire situation, so far as the prospects of the Republican party for victory are concerned, now revolves about Roosevelt. If he accepts the Progressive nomination and refuses to support the Republican nominee, leaders feel that all hope of Republican success against President Wilson will have disappeared.

Important factors in the Republican situation insist, however, that Roosevelt can not obtain the Republican nomination, and this assertion is borne out by the general expression of sentiment that has come from the delegates since they arrived in Chicago.

The situation between the Progressive and Republican camps is getting into such a snarl that Colonel Roosevelt's presence in Chicago may be required if there is to be any likelihood of bringing harmony out of muddle.

Harmony Plan.

A plan was considered today by which a resolution is to be introduced in both the Republican and Progressive conventions calling for the appointment of a conference committee by each gathering to consider a plan for getting together. There is strong likelihood that some such resolution will be introduced, and that it will be a storm center in the Republican convention. If such a resolution comes before the convention and the Progressives still insist on going ahead with their nomination of Roosevelt, the vote on it is likely to furnish an early test as to the colonel's strength in the Republican gathering.

Reports of discord in the Ohio delegation, which threatened to deprive Theodore Burton of the support of the delegation, were denied in a statement by Granville W. Mooney, manager of the Burton campaign.

Assuming that the Hughes movement is still sewed up, Ohio Burton workers continue to circulate among leaders from other states they think will be able to deliver votes. Mr. Mooney, the Burton manager, professed to be satisfied with the prospects. It was said that encouraging reports have been brought into Burton headquarters.

PUT MACHINE IN LOW GEAR

Chicago, June 8.—Efforts are being made to mend the situation include another attempt to get the Progressives to delay action. George W. Perkins and other Progressive leaders have not yielded entirely to the radicals in the party, but they hold out no hope of blocking the plan of Hiram Johnson of California and his followers to push through the Roosevelt nomination by tomorrow. In fact all plans have been made by the radical Progressives for early action. Bainbridge Colby of New York has been selected to make the nominating speech.

Governor Hiram Johnson of California expressed the sentiment of the radical Progressives when he said: "No man can prevent the Progressive convention from nominating Roosevelt except Roosevelt himself."

HARDING IS CHOSEN CHAIRMAN

Chicago, June 8.—Senator Harding, temporary chairman of the Republican national convention, which reconvened at 11 a. m. today, will preside as permanent chairman of the convention.

The committee on permanent organization reported today that it had voted unanimously to make permanent the temporary organization.

The favorite sons delegations were placed directly before the speakers' platform today. They began on the right with Michigan, Missouri, Illinois, Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania and Iowa.

The personnel of the committee on resolutions was reported as follows:

Alabama, S. T. Wright; Arizona, John B. Wright; Arkansas, John I. Worthington; California, J. G. Mott; Colorado, C. W. Waterman; Connecticut, Charles Hopkins Clark; Delaware, Ruby S. Vail; Florida, M. B. MacFarlane; Georgia, B. J. Davis; Idaho, William E. Borah; Illinois, Martin B. Madden; Indiana, Fred A. Sims; Iowa, Howard J. Clark; Kansas, Charles F. Scott; Kentucky, J. M. Robison; Louisiana, S. A. Trufaut; Maine, John A. Peters; Maryland, Thomas M. Bartlett; Massachusetts, Henry Cabot Lodge; Michigan, B. S. Hatchett; Minnesota, George H. Sulivan; Mississippi, L. B. Redmond; Missouri, Berryman Henwood; Montana, J. M. Burlingame; Nebraska, Peter Jansen; Nevada, Samuel Platt; New Hampshire, George H. Moser; New Jersey, Hamilton Kean; New Mexico, A. B. Fall; New York, James W. Wadsworth, Jr.; North Carolina, Marion Butler; North Dakota, J. E. Paulson; Ohio, Paul Howland; Oklahoma, T. B. Ferguson; Oregon, W. H. Brooke; Pennsylvania, George T. Oliver; Rhode Island, H. F. Lippitt; South Carolina, E. F. Cochran; South Dakota, Thomas Sterling; Tennessee, S. B. Anderson; Texas, Eugene Marshall; Utah, George Sutherland; Vermont, Theodore N. Vail; Washington, E. C. Hughes; West Virginia, H. C. Oden; Wisconsin, E. J. Gross; Wyoming, Dwight E. Hollister.

ENTHUSIASM

Chicago, June 8.—The Progressives shouted "We want Teddy" for an hour and thirty-six minutes. They marched and stamped and sang and danced around the Goddess of Liberty; they romped through every antic known to the old prompt book of convention "demonstrations," and invented several lines for a new one.

Temporary Chairman Raymond Robins of Chicago set off the giant crack by declaring that Colonel Roosevelt was the "foremost citizen of the world."

There were 3,000 in the auditorium when Robins began his address. He said: "The Progressives stand for Americanism and preparedness. They stand for an Americanism which is not qualified by differences in blood or birth or creed. They stand for preparedness of the body and of the spirit, industrial and social, as well as military, with universal service for the defense of the nation."

"The chief issue today is one of leadership, the supreme need for a man," Robins declared. "This nation needs a leader in this hour whose abstract promises have been tested by concrete performance." Robins made a plea for industrial and social preparedness, saying these factors are equally as important as armament.

Speaking plainly to the Republicans, Robins said that the need and opportunity of the times is such that partisanship bitterness and local prejudice should be laid aside. "But we would solemnly warn all those of easy and accommodating political virtue," he continued, "that we will not surrender principle nor make unworthy compromise to gain a meaningless and selfish political victory. The American people are waiting for the leader to be named here in Chicago," Robins concluded.

FRAME WORK OF MORSE PLAN

Chicago, June 8.—The Progressive national convention reconvened in the Auditorium at noon. Committee reports were received.

A tentative draft of the Progressive platform was completed by the resolutions committee. "National preparedness in spirit, arms and industry" is the dominant theme. As to preparedness, the platform declares for a navy second in the world's armadas, a standing army of 250,000 men and "universal opportunity for military training under federal supervision." Social and economic reforms and "social justice" features of the 1912 platform are reaffirmed: "full political suffrage" is endorsed, a permanent expert tariff commission, high protective tariff, regulation of industries, conservation and development of national resources are urged.

The platform declares that the present situation makes an issue of men rather than words and closes with the declaration that the Progressives "will meet any party who sees the nation's needs and puts forward a leader fit to meet it."

Arthur L. Garford will continue another year as Ohio member of the party's national committee. Other selections at the Ohio Progressive caucus were: Credentials committee, William Y. Cooper of Cincinnati; rules committee, E. E. Erskine, Steubenville; permanent organization committee, H. H. Tinken of Canton.

WILL SEND NOTE TO CARRANZA

Commission to Settle Mexican Problems.

IDEA OF ADMINISTRATION

Would Submit Whole Subject of Relations Between the United States and Mexico to an International Commission, Washington and Mexico City to Appoint an Equal Number of Commissioners.

Washington, June 8.—A proposal to General Carranza that the United States and the Mexican de facto government submit the whole subject of their relations to an international commission is being considered seriously by the administration.

The proposal, if it is made, will serve as a reply to the Mexican note demanding withdrawal of the American troops, and may contemplate adjustment of many unsettled differences that for years have caused accumulating embarrassment in the relations of the two nations. Settlement by a commission is provided for expressly by the treaty of 1848, which provides further that "should such a course be proposed by either party, it shall be acceded by the other unless deemed by it altogether incompatible with the nature of the difference or the circumstances of the case."

President Wilson and General Carranza would appoint an equal number of commissioners under the plan.

Just what scope would be given the commissioners has not been worked out. In view of the fact that the Mexican note demands withdrawal of the troops as evidence of good faith, it is possible that this question would have to be considered, although prior to the meetings of the commission no step toward withdrawal probably would be taken.

Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, called at the state department to seek information as to when a reply might be expected to the Carranza note. It was pointed out to him that Secretary Lansing had been indisposed for several days and as yet had been unable to fully consider the 12,000 word Mexican note in all of its phases. Mr. Arredondo gained the impression, however, that there would be no undue delay. He was given no inkling as to its probable nature, aside from the intimation that the Washington government's friendly attitude toward Mexico had undergone no change because of the unusual character of General Carranza's note.

FRENCH FEAR
VAUX IS LOST

(By American Press)

Paris, June 8.—Fort Vaux, on the right bank of the Meuse, which has been the objective of repeated German attacks of intense violence for the past three months, and which has been the center of almost continual fighting for several days, is out of communication with the rest of the French line and the French war office intimates the possibility that it has fallen.

In its communiqué the war office quotes the German official statement to the effect that the fort was taken by the Germans Tuesday evening. In reply the war office says that it was still in the hands of the French Wednesday morning, but that since that time communication has been cut off.

A quiet wedding took place Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when Miss Sylvia Taylor, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Taylor of the Plymouth pike, was united in marriage to Mr. Hugh Campbell at the M. P. parsonage, Rev. Harper performing the ceremony.

The bride, a talented musician whose charm has won for her unusual popularity, was looking extremely pretty in a smart suit of navy blue taffeta silk with hat and gloves to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left for a short wedding trip. They have the best wishes of a wide circle of friends.

Florence Mable Sparks, the pretty little four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sparks, celebrated her birthday with a beautiful party Thursday afternoon.

The home was darkened and softly illuminated by candles, and a profusion of red roses, peonies, weigelia and fern sent from the Lloyd gardens, were arranged with much taste in decoration.

Twenty-five youngsters had a merry time and made a pretty picture as they flocked around the little dark haired hostess, in an embroidered white dress and wide sash.

The children were served with a delicious summer lunch and were greatly pleased with favors of Denison caps.

The birthday cake with blazing candles was a special delight.

Assisting Mrs. Sparks in caring for the little ones were Mrs. C. E. Lloyd, Misses Sallie Dial and Margaret Christopher.

The guests were:

Kathleen Penn, Marjorie Penn, Mary Katherine Junk, Adeline Barber, Alice Brownell, Helen Louise Jackson, Judith Ann Jackson, Hemmings Springer, Mary Louise Mark, Virginia Thompson, Waldeen Teachnor, Willard McLean, Edgar Barnett, Billy McFadden, James Ireland, Clifton Hazard, Thomas Craig, Tom Gardner Murray, Helen Christopher of Greenfield, Dorothy Sparks, Marjorie Sparks, Ralph Lloyd.

The Sugar Grove W. C. T. U. met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Betty Profit, of the Greenfield pike. There was quite a good attendance and an enjoyable session held. "Flower Mission" was the topic for the day and was presented in carefully prepared papers by Mrs. Augusta Haines, Mrs. Delsie Elliot, Mrs. Eva McCoy and Mrs. Laura Pine.

A physical culture drill, led by Mrs. Laura Pine, closed the afternoon's program and a delightful social hour followed. Mrs. Pearl Darlington assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Maude Anderson, Fayette St. this city.

The Ladies Circle of the G. A. R. will entertain the old soldiers Friday afternoon at 2:30 at the G. A. R. Hall.

Following the Willis-Dahl marriage Friday night there was an informal dance at the K. of P. Castle in compliment to the bridal party and the visiting guests.

Horstman and Miller furnished the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Armbruster of 3100 North High street, Columbus, have announced the engagement of their daughter Flora, to Mr. Wilhelm Neilson an instructor in the department of civil engineering at the Ohio State University.
